Contents

Preface . . . ix

PART I

BASICS OF DEMENTIA CARE, AND LIFE IN A DEMENTIA CARE COMMUNITY

1 What Is Long-Term Care? . . . 3
2 What Is Dementia? . . . 8
3 What Type of Dementia Is It, and Why Does It Matter? . . . 11
4 When It’s Time for a Dementia Care Community—and When It’s Not . . . 21
5 Caring for People Is an Imperfect Science . . . 28

PART II

COMMUNICATING WITH SOMEONE WHO HAS DEMENTIA

6 Embrace Their Reality: When Loved Ones Are Confused . . . 35
7 Why It Doesn’t Work to Reorient People Who Have Dementia . . . 41
8 Why Quizzing Isn’t Effective . . . 45
9 Become a Dementia Detective . . . 52
10 Car Keys, Cell Phones, and Wallets . . . 58

PART III

LIVING IN A DEMENTIA CARE COMMUNITY

11 The Importance of Meaningful Activities . . . 69
12 Baby Dolls, Artificial Pets, and the Importance of Environment . . . 78
13 A Note about Visiting . . . 86
14 Personal Preferences . . . 90
15 The Cost of Good Hygiene . . . 96
16 Move-In Day: Dropping Your Loved One Off . . . 103
17 Saying Goodbye for the Day . . . 110

PART IV

RELATIONSHIPS AND DEMENTIA

18 The Importance of Friendship for People Who Have Dementia . . . 117
19 Sex and Partnership in a Dementia Community . . . 123
20 Trouble with Other Residents . . . 130
21 Agitation in the Evening: Preventing and Coping with Sundowning . . . 136
22 Day Trips and Outings . . . 142
23 She Doesn’t Recognize Me . . . 149

PART V

CHALLENGES AND CHANGES IN ADVANCED DEMENTIA CARE

24 The Right Approach When It Comes to Aggression . . . 157
25 Hallucinations and Delusional Thinking . . . 164
26 Aphasia, Second Languages, and Word Salads . . . 170
27 Dietary Changes . . . 179
28 Caregiver Stress and Cultivating Patience . . . 185
29 Preserving Hope . . . 192

Notes . . . 197
Index . . . 199