Contents

Foreword xvii
Preface xix

Chapter 1. Dementia
What Is Dementia? 8
The Person Who Has Dementia 12
Where Do You Go from Here? 16

Chapter 2. Getting Medical Help for the Person Who Has Dementia
The Evaluation of the Person with a Suspected Dementia 20
Finding Someone to Do an Evaluation 27
The Medical Treatment and Management of Dementia 28
The Physician 29
The Nurse 30
The Social Worker 31
The Geriatric Care Manager 32
The Pharmacist 33

Chapter 3. Characteristic Behavioral Symptoms in People Who Have Dementia
The Brain, Behavior, and Personality: Why People Who Have Dementia Do the Things They Do 35
Caregiving: Some General Suggestions 41
Memory Problems 46
Overreacting, or Catastrophic Reactions 47
CONTENTS

Combative ness  55
Problems with Speech and Communication  57
  Problems the Person Who Has Dementia Experiences in Making Himself Understood  57
  Problems the Person Who Has Dementia Experiences in Understanding Others  62
Loss of Coordination  67
Loss of Sense of Time  71
Symptoms That Are Better Sometimes and Worse at Other Times  73

Chapter 4. Problems in Independent Living  76
Mild Cognitive Impairment  76
  Managing the Early Stages of Dementia  78
When a Person Must Give Up a Job  80
When a Person Can No Longer Manage Money  82
When a Person Can No Longer Drive Safely  84
When a Person Can No Longer Live Alone  90
  When You Suspect That Someone Living Alone Is Developing Dementia  91
What You Can Do  95
Moving to a New Residence  96

Chapter 5. Problems Arising in Daily Care  102
Hazards to Watch For  102
  In the House  105
Outdoors  108
Riding in the Car  110
Highways and Parking Lots  111
Smoking  112
Hunting  112
CONTENTS

Nutrition and Mealtimes 113
  Meal Preparation 114
  Mealtimes 115
  Problem Eating Behaviors 118
  Malnutrition 121
  Weight Loss 121
  Choking 123
  When to Consider Tube Feeding 125
Exercise 127
Recreation 131
  Meaningful Activity 134
Personal Hygiene 136
  Bathing 138
  Locating Care Supplies 142
  Dressing 143
  Grooming 144
  Oral Hygiene 146
Incontinence (Wetting or Soiling) 147
  Urinary Incontinence 148
  Bowel Incontinence 153
  Cleaning Up 154
Problems with Walking and Balance; Falling 157
  Becoming Chairbound or Bedfast 160
  Wheelchairs 162
Changes You Can Make at Home 163
  Should Environments Be Cluttered or Bare? 166

Chapter 6. Medical Problems 169
  Pain 172
  Falls and Injuries 173
  Pressure Sores 174
  Dehydration 175
CONTENTS

Pneumonia 175
Constipation 176
Medications 178
Dental Problems 183
Vision Problems 184
Hearing Problems 187
Dizziness 188
Visiting the Doctor 189
If the Ill Person Must Enter the Hospital 190
Seizures, Fits, or Convulsions 193
Jerking Movements (Myoclonus) 196
The Death of the Person Who Has Dementia 196
The Cause of Death 196
Dying at Home 197
Hospice and Palliative Care 198
Dying in the Hospital or Nursing Home 199
When Should Treatment End? 200
What Kind of Care Can Be Given at the End of Life? 203

Chapter 7. Managing the Behavioral and Neuropsychiatric Symptoms of Dementia

The Six R's of Behavior Management 209
Concealing Memory Loss 212
Wandering 214
Why People Wander 215
The Management of Wandering 218
Sleep Disturbances and Night Wandering 229
Worsening in the Evening ("Sundowning") 234
Losing, Hoarding, or Hiding Things 236
Rummaging in Drawers and Closets 238
Inappropriate Sexual Behavior 238
Repeating the Question 242
CONTENTS

Repetitious Actions 243
Distractibility 244
Clinging or Persistently Following You Around
("Shadowing") 245
Complaints and Insults 247
Taking Things 251
Forgetting Telephone Calls 252
Demands 253
Stubbornness and Uncooperativeness 256
When the Person Who Has Dementia Insults the Sitter 257
Using Medication to Manage Behavior 259

Chapter 8. Symptoms Associated with Mood Change and Suspiciousness 261
Depression 261
Complaints about Health 263
Suicide 264
Alcohol or Drug Abuse 264
Apathy and Listlessness 265
Remembering Feelings 266
Anger and Irritability 267
Anxiety, Nervousness, and Restlessness 270
False Ideas, Suspiciousness, Paranoia, and Hallucinations 273
  Misinterpretation 274
  Failure to Recognize People or Things (Agnosia) 276
  “You Are Not My Husband” 277
  “My Mother Is Coming for Me” 277
  Suspiciousness 278
  Hiding Things 283
  Delusions and Hallucinations 284
Having Nothing to Do 286
CONTENTS

Chapter 9. Special Arrangements If You Become Ill 288
   In the Event of Your Death 291

Chapter 10. Getting Outside Help 294
   Help from Friends and Neighbors 295
   Finding Information and Services 296
   Kinds of Services 299
      Having Someone Come into Your Home 301
      Adult Day Care 302
      Short-Stay Residential Care 305
   Planning in Advance for Home Care, Day Care, and Respite Care 306
   When the Person Who Has Dementia Rejects the Care 307
   Your Own Feelings about Getting Respite for Yourself 311
   Locating Resources 314
   Paying for Care 317
   Should Respite Programs Mix People Who Have Different
      Problems? 321
   Determining the Quality of Services 322
   Research and Demonstration Programs 324

Chapter 11. You and the Person Who Has Dementia 325
   Changes in Roles 328
   Understanding Family Conflicts 335
      Division of Responsibility 336
   Your Marriage 339
   Coping with Role Changes and Family Conflict 340
      A Family Conference 342
   When You Live out of Town 347
   When You Are Not the Primary Caregiver, What Can You Do
      to Help? 348
CONTENTS

Caregiving and Your Job 351
Your Children 352
Teenagers 356

Chapter 12. How Caring for a Person Who Has Dementia Affects You 359
Emotional Reactions 359
   Anger 361
   Embarrassment 366
   Helplessness 368
   Guilt 369
   Laughter, Love, and Joy 373
   Grief 374
   Depression 377
   Isolation and Feeling Alone 378
   Worry 379
   Being Hopeful and Being Realistic 379
Mistreating the Person Who Has Dementia 381
Physical Reactions 383
   Fatigue 383
   Illness 384
Sexuality 385
   If Your Spouse Has Dementia 385
   If Your Impaired Parent Lives with You 388
The Future 389
   You as a Spouse Alone 391
   When the Person You Have Cared for Dies 393

Chapter 13. Caring for Yourself 395
Take Time Out 396
   Give Yourself a Present 398
CONTENTS

- Friends 399
- Avoid Isolation 399
- Find Additional Help If You Need It 401
  - Recognize the Warning Signs 402
  - Counseling 405
- Joining with Other Families: The Alzheimer’s Association 408
  - Support Groups 410
  - Excuses 411
- Advocacy 413

Chapter 14. For Children and Teenagers 416

Chapter 15. Financial and Legal Issues 422
  - Your Financial Assessment 422
  - Potential Expenses 423
  - Potential Resources 425
  - Where to Look for the Forgetful Person’s Resources 434
  - Legal Matters 438

Chapter 16. Long-Term Care Arrangements 445
  - Types of Living Arrangements 448
  - Moving with the Person Who Has Dementia 456
  - Nursing Homes 457
  - Finding a Long-Term Care Setting outside the Home 465
    - Paying for Care 468
    - Guidelines for Selecting a Long-Term Care Facility 471
  - Moving a Person to a Residential Care Facility 481
  - Adjusting to a New Life 484
    - Visiting 485
    - Your Own Adjustment 490
CONTENTS

When Problems Occur in the Nursing Home or Other Residential Care Facility 492
Sexual Issues in Nursing Homes or Other Care Facilities 495

Chapter 17. Preventing and Delaying Cognitive Decline 499
Usual Age-Associated Changes 499
   Recalling Words and Speed of Mental Performance 500
Risk Factors Identify Potential Targets and Possible Approaches for Decreasing the Risk of Dementia 501
   Cardiovascular Factors 501
   Physical Exercise 00
   Social and Intellectual Activity 502
   Diet 504
   Education 506
   Diabetes 506
   Depression 506
   Toxins 507
   Head Injury 508
   Age 508
   Genetics 509
   Medications 509
Summary 509

Chapter 18. Brain Disorders and the Causes of Dementia 511
Mild Cognitive Impairment 512
Dementia 513
   Alcohol Use Disorder Associated Dementia 515
   Alzheimer Disease 515
   Amnestic (Korsakoff) Syndrome 518
   Cortico-basal Ganglionic Degeneration 518
CONTENTS

Depression  519
The Frontotemporal Dementias  520
HIV-AIDS  521
Lewy Body Dementia  523
Parkinson Disease Associated Dementia  524
Primary Progressive Aphasia  525
Progressive Supranuclear Palsy  525
Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI or Head Trauma)  526
Vascular Dementia  527
Young or Early Onset Dementia  528
Other Brain Disorders  529
Delirium  529
Stroke and Other Localized Brain Injury  531
Transient Ischemic Attack  532

Chapter 19. Research in Dementia  533
Understanding Research  534
Bogus Cures  537
Research in Vascular Dementia and Stroke  538
Research in Alzheimer Disease  539
Structural Changes in the Brain  539
Brain Cells  539
Neuroplasticity  540
Neurotransmitters  541
Abnormal Proteins  542
Abnormal Proteins within Brain Cells  543
Infection  544
Nerve Growth Factors  544
Transplants of Brain Tissue  545
Metals  546
Prions  546
CONTENTS

Immunological Defects 547
Head Trauma 548
Drug Studies 548
Epidemiology 550
Down Syndrome 551
Old Age 551
Heredity 552
Gender 556
Neuropsychological Testing 556
Brain Imaging 557
Keeping Active 559
The Effect of Acute Illness on Dementia 560
Research into the Delivery of Services 561
Protective Factors 562
One Disease or Many? 563

Index 565